Dear Jim,

As you'll see, I've told Jimmy Ray that you won't be able to go through the King case clippings I gave you after I wrote Frame-Up and how he can get what he wants by other means.

I send you his letter and mine on the off chance you can lay your hands on that particular story without much trouble.

Can you and Jonathan possibly be overwhelmed with so great a volume of absolute top priority work that when I asked you to write Linda Hunt's address on the paper enclosed that had her name on it, with a return-addressed stamped envelope, after all this time neither of you had the slight amount of time that takes?
